An excellent resolution was adopted by the Board of Education at its meeting yesterday. It was to the effect that the city railway companies should let school children travel on their lines at a reduced

This would alleviate to some extent the misfortune the children of this city are suffering at present from inadequate accommodation in the schools. Children who are crowded out of their own school because the seats are filled can go to some less crowded one at a distance, if the car fare is a trifle, since there are few who could not then avail themselves of the transportation which would be necessary for carrying

In passing septence on this deprayed and calloused villain, Judge Mooke was exceedingly impressive. He declared that the prisoner could not have had a fairer trial: that the jury had been composed of men of his own choice, and that his counsel had presented his case to them in the ablest mapner. Judge Moone avowed his own intense conviction of the prisoner's guilt.

He had, he said, already spoken with the officers of two of the leading street railroad ompanies of the city upon the subject, and they had expressed a willingness to make a special reduction to school children during two hours in the morning and two hours in the afternoon, and had agreed to fix the face at three cents during these hours.

Although he did not name the companies he stated that they ran through the most populous parts of the city, and that he had no doubt, if the Board of Education took the proper steps, that other lines could be easily induced to extend the same privileges to school children.

The great benefit derived from such a reduction would be to enable poor parents to send their children to schools outside of the districts in which they lived, where the

WHY THE DON FAILED. The Short-Lived Career of a Big

Broadway Clothing Store. When the Don Clothing Association failed a few weeks ago it was a matter of much surprise to the merchants of that weighbor hood as to the reasons that caused the firm to come to grief after a business career of less than four months. Various causes were assigned, but not until yesterday was the real cause of the assignment made public.

When Mr. I. Rorenheim, the assignment who is a well-known business man, filed his schedules, the liabilities were something like $167,000, and the assets about $05.000. The assignee thought that more money could be realized for the creditors by selling the stock at retail than by a sale at publication. The creditors acquierced in the opinion, and the stock was overhauled and appraised at 40c, on the dollar, at which it has been and is now being sold.

The senior member of the firm, in an interview with a reposter yesterday, disclosed the true cause which compelled the tirm to place their affairs in the hands of an assignce: The block-makers employed at the quarries near fauttenberg has been organized by a committee of the Hudson County Central Labor Union. The new organization will be known as the filock-Makers' Union of Hudson County, N. J. There were twenty-six charter members.

The senior member of the firm, in an interview with a reporter yeater day, disclosed the true cause which compelled the tirm to place their affairs in the hands of an assignce:

Shortf Rhinehart stole away from the Jail with Mclivaine at 1.15 yesterday afternoon and took the 5.30 express with his prisoner.

Mclivaine annoked a cigar with much musto on the way to his death chamber, and manifested no interest in the access through which the train passed, hardly deigning to look out of the window of the car.

At 5.30 he passed in at the portals of the prison, and the teaning world of housest industry and honorable endoavor was shut out from his sight forever.
